Supervisor:

Prof. Naveen Vaswani

Department of Computer Engineering

Watumull Institute of Electronics Engineering and Computer Technology 2020 – 2021

Problem Statement:

The employment has been made manual in the past many years upto this current situation where everything has totally changed due to technological changes. The traditional mode of employment takes a lot of steps from advertisement, application, verify application and conduct interviews therefore consuming a lot of time . The technology is also advancing and the job recruitment process has changed a bit though some problems still occur. Most companies have developed websites where they advertise their jobs and still go back to the traditional way where application form is downloaded and filled then submitted to the company for further verification then be called afterwards for the job.

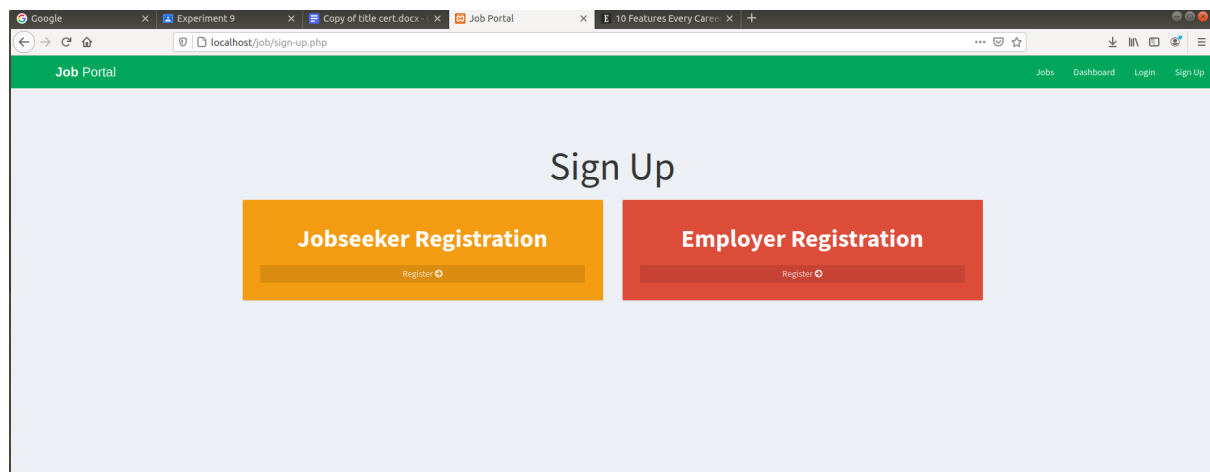

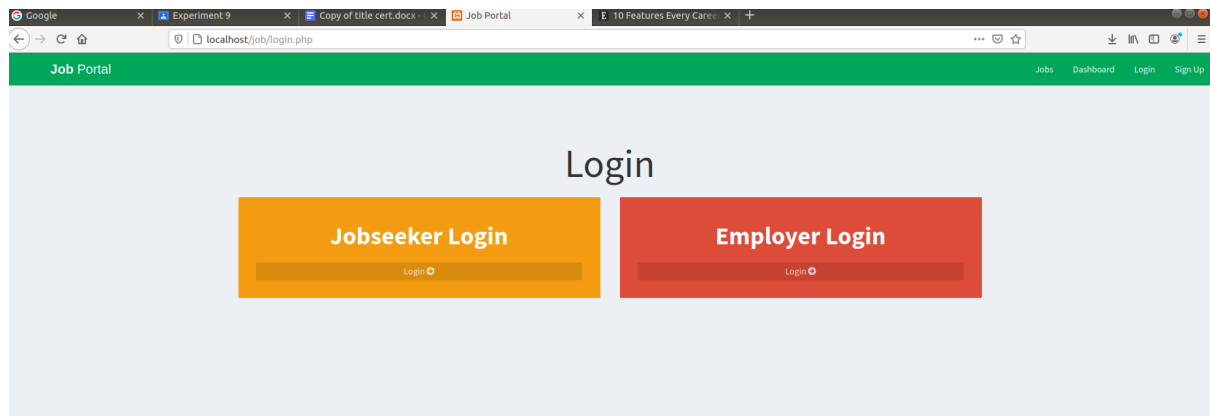

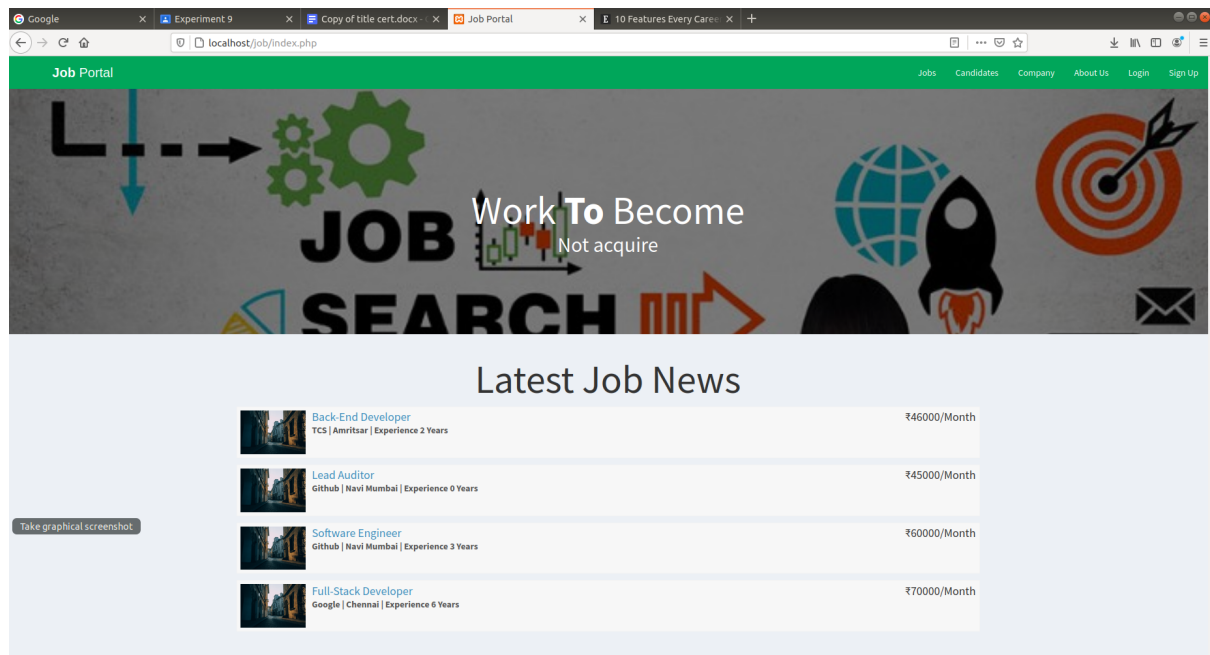

Overall Modules:

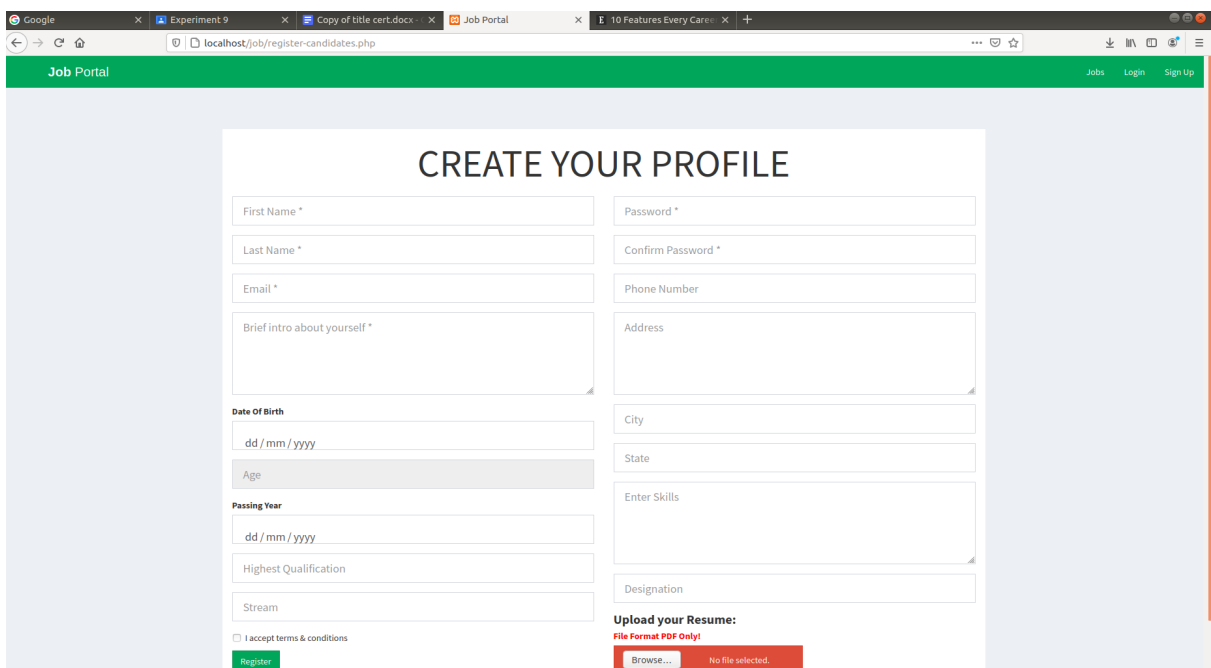

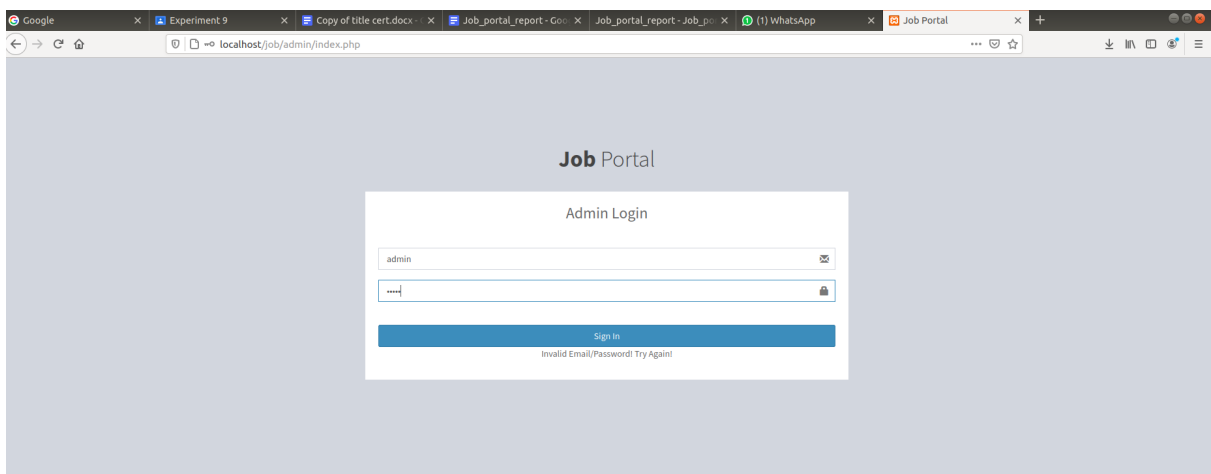

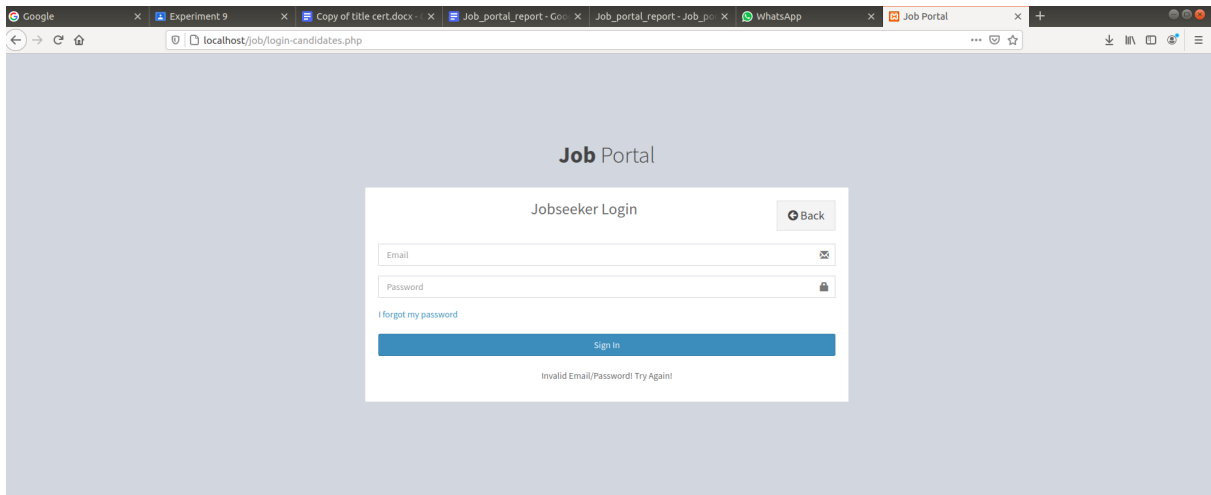

1. Jobseeker : The person who is in need of a job and can apply to the job according to the job list and requirements.
2. Employer: The person who is in need of a job seeker will create and post a job.
3. Admin: The aim of the admin is to do CRUD operations and accept or reject the employee of the company.

Overall Functions:

- Create Job Post
- Apply Job Post
